

5th Annual Appellate Practice Boot Camp Conference: Court Attorneys Teach the Do's and Don'ts

A practical view of appellate practice in the California Courts of Appeal, this course is a unique opportunity to improve your practice. Appellate law experts, including career research attorneys from various appellate courts, discuss California appellate practice, with an emphasis on the practical aspects. Main topics include: drafting effective briefs; presenting oral argument; standards of review; how appeals are processed and resolved; rehearing petitions; and the top "do's" and "don'ts" for effective appellate attorneys. The program focuses on improving attorneys' practice, brief writing and oral argument, as well as identifying common procedural mistakes. This is a beginner to intermediate course; experienced practitioners can benefit from hearing the court's perspective, practical advice and asking the speakers questions.

Attendees will learn:

- How appeals are processed and resolved
- The importance of appealing the right order or judgment
- Standards of review and prospects for reversal
- Appellate applications and motions
- Drafting effective briefs, including tips from the research attorneys who read the briefs
- What to expect at oral argument and how to improve oral presentations
- Decisions & publication
- What happens to rehearing petitions and how you should handle them
- The top "do's" and "don'ts" for effective appellate attorneys
